Specialised Security for High-Risk Environments

At Stallion Security, we understand that every client's needs are unique, especially when it comes to high-risk environments and sensitive operations. That's why we offer a full spectrum of specialised security services, designed to ensure safety, mitigate risks, and maintain order across various sectors.

Our event crowd control teams are expertly trained to manage large gatherings, ensuring the safety of all attendees while minimising disruptions. Whether it's a major sporting event, concert, or public gathering, our personnel are equipped to respond swiftly and effectively to any situation.

In matters requiring the highest levels of discretion and truth verification, our polygraph services assist in internal investigations, screening, and ongoing integrity testing—giving you peace of mind when it comes to your people and operations.

Our Close Protection Operatives (CPOs) offer a robust layer of personal security for high-profile individuals, executives, and VIPs. Trained to international standards, our operatives operate with professionalism and situational awareness, whether for a once-off assignment or long-term deployment.

We also provide reliable medical support teams, capable of immediate on-site response in emergency situations. From basic first aid to advanced paramedics, we prioritise the well-being of all stakeholders.

The secure escorting of high-value commodities is another core offering. With detailed planning and real-time monitoring, our trained escorts ensure that your valuable assets are transported safely and securely.

Lastly, our Riot Response Teams are deployed in volatile or potentially hostile environments where crowd unrest or civil disorder poses a risk. Trained in conflict de-escalation, non-lethal tactics, and public order maintenance, they act swiftly to restore calm while protecting both property and people.

With a proven track record, experienced personnel, and a commitment to operational excellence, Stallion Security is your trusted partner in delivering tailored, high-risk security solutions.
